

Kristy Jarvis

Corporate Controller
Joined SIAA in 2002

Kristy oversees SIAA's accounting department, while managing the four essential accounting staff, including the Assistant Controller, AR Coordinator, AP Coordinator, and Accounting & Opportunity Analyst. Kristy also works with Human Resources on staff benefit implementation and oversees many human resource responsibilities.

For six years, Kristy has been working on developing NextWeb, a complex reports and payment system used throughout SIAA with all 49 master agencies and more than 6,723 member agencies. Kristy ensures accuracy of NextWeb's key components, verifying complete integration with all SIAA's accounting software. Since the NextWeb launch in 2017, Kristy is training SIAA and SAN Group members on how to use and file reports and get critical data.

Prior to joining SIAA, Kristy was an auditor in Portland, Maine with McDonald, Page, Schatz, Fletcher.

In 2001, Kristy earned her Master's degree in Accounting from the University of New Hampshire, Durham, New Hampshire.

Kristy and her husband live in Lee, New Hampshire with her son, Tamiru, who she adopted from Ethiopia in 2008 at the age of 3.